of Pride Organizers

2012 PrideRadar

Report by InterPride's
Human Rights Committee

InterPride Inc. – International Association of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex Pride Organizers

Founded in 1982 InterPride is the worlds largest organization for organizers of Pride events. InterPride is incorporated in the State of Texas in the USA and is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization under US law. It is funded by membership dues, sponsorship, merchandise sales and donations from individuals and organizations.

Our mission

It's InterPride's mission to promote Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) Pride on an international level and to encourage diverse communities to hold and attend Pride Events. InterPride increases networking, communication and education among Pride Organizations. InterPride works together with other LGBTI and Human Rights organizations.

International LGBTI Human Rights

InterPride believes that all people are born free and equal with dignity and rights. InterPride supports the Yogyakarta Principles, a set of principles applying international human rights law to ensure protection against the violations experienced by lesbians, gay men, bisexual, transgender and intersex people. Around the world, there remain many incidents where an individual's sexual orientation or gender identity can lead them to face discrimination, violence, imprisonment, torture or execution.

InterPride and Human Rights

InterPride raises attention and educates people about the existing difficulties around the world through our member Pride events. We encourage our members to include a Human Rights element in their Pride festivities expressly for the purpose of sharing the plight of others. We participate in Human Rights conferences and partner with other LGBTI organizations around the world to promote safety, equality and tolerance for all people everywhere. Through our members, partners, colleagues and communities, InterPride reaches millions of people around the world.

Information given in this Report is known to be correct at the time of publication.

Let's take a closer look.

It all started in the late sixties/early seventies in the United States of America when gay and lesbian citizens, in the wake of the civil rights movement, started to protest against discrimination. In remembrance of the beginnings, marches of Pride evolved in big cities in the USA sparking a plethora of similar events around the world.

We have come a long way since those early days of our movement. In many cities around the world, Prides have become celebratory events establishing themselves as regular dates in the city's calendar and generating the support of the local population, government, businesses and the promotion of their Tourist boards. Although this is true of most Western countries, sadly in many other countries Pride marches or other forms of manifestations for equal rights and anti-discrimination of LGBTI people are still obstructed, attacked or simply forbidden.

It's InterPride's mission to promote Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI) Pride on an international level and to encourage diverse communities to hold and attend Pride events. From large festivals in excess of a million people, to small activist marches and gatherings, the spectrum of events our members organize is diverse - not all happening in peaceful environments however.

This year InterPride is celebrating its 30th Anniversary and to mark this occasion we have produced this inaugural PrideRadar. The intention of this publication is to collect all information about Pride events around the world and to monitor the "climate" in which they are taking place. Are they so-called Happy Prides or are they being held in hostile environments? We want to create awareness in the wider community about how large OUR community, OUR friends and OUR supporters are and how seriously OUR rights should be taken.

Although not all events happening may be listed we believe the PrideRadar is a good start. If you know of Pride events (or are a Pride organizer) that are not listed let us know and we'll make sure that you are added to the list. It's our goal to have a more comprehensive and updated publication by next year.

Pride events are an integral part of our socio-cultural fabric – meaning and colorful in every conceivable fashion – and an asset to every society. We hope that the future will see Pride events happening in all countries around the world without incident or government intervention.

What Does YOUR Pride look like?

Since before the Compton Riots and most notably, 4 years later at the Stonewall Riots, LGBTI people have been struggling for an acceptance of their rights as citizens in every corner of the world. With this birth of a burgeoning Pride movement, Marches, Festivals, Fairs and manifestations of every kind have been occurring around the globe. The intent of these celebrations and protests is to show our visibility as an oppressed minority and each event, where ever it is held, is a profound political statement of our being: We're here; we're Queer; and we will no longer continue to be invisible and accept second-class citizenship. Increasingly, we, as a world-wide community of LGBTI people, are growing in our determination to not simply go away or be legislated out of existence. With great fortune and fortitude, we have seen much success. But ... not everywhere.

As the Co-Presidents point out, this trend has been popular in Western-thinking nations in North America, West Europe, Australia and South America. Furthermore, there has been a growing interest in Pride activism throughout Eastern Europe stemming from the collapse of totalitarian regimes in the latter part of the previous century despite ongoing cultural challenges. However, throughout most of the Caribbean, Africa, the Middle East and Asia, our visibility, indeed, our very existence, is constantly under attack from municipal, national and religious leaders. Additionally, nationalist, fascist, neo-nazi, religious fundamentalist and other right-wing groups, homophobes all, are on the rise throughout the global theater. A common, often uniting factor for all these groups and more is a driven determination to prevent Pride activity of any kind. This makes Pride organizing, and LGBTI human rights activism, for that matter, difficult, dangerous, and all too often ... deadly.

Prides are a powerful albeit vastly under-utilized tool for educating literally millions and millions of people. We should be teaching our communities about what goes on beyond our respective borders and our Pride events are the perfect vehicle for this. While some organizations like Atlanta Pride, San Francisco Pride, Stockholm Pride, Pride Toronto, Pride London, Sao Paulo, Northampton, Connecticut and Boston Prides, just to name a few, have indeed been providing outreach and education regarding the Pride/Human Rights equation, most Prides, particularly in North America, do not. In other "Happy Pride" areas it is common practice, much to their credit.

We accept as a given truth that Pride cannot occur without the recognition and acceptance of basic human rights. Our intention for Pride Radar is to compare and contrast the Pride/Human Rights Equation on a planetary scale. While we recognize that many more "Pride" events take place all over the world, we have listed those that are known to us at the time of publication. There are more ... MANY more, and our goal is to eventually list them all. Ideally, we would like to welcome ALL Pride events, whatever and where ever they may be, into the global InterPride family. There is safety in numbers, and the larger our number and combined voice, the greater our strength and power will be to effect necessary change around the world.

The single most important task we can commit to is greater education. We herewith charge and challenge all organizations in free and democratic societies tasked with the responsibility of producing LGBTI Pride events, whatever their nature and scope, to increase their educational component. We must inform our communities of the horrors our brothers and sisters in hostile environments face in their daily lives and of the denial of their basic human rights to peacefully organize, assemble and BE. Only then can Prides take place ALL around the world. Dr. Martin Luther King said it with simple eloquence: "No one is free until we are ALL free."
